

DIWALI CELEBRATION at Padmakesharipur Village

DATE:7TH November, 2018

“Diwali-the festival of lights” is a festival extensively celebrated in India,where the country lights up in the colors of peace,happiness and brotherhood. The festival of light which dispels the darkness of our ignorance and guides us to be selfless towards the underprivileged.Spreading happiness and helping the underprivileged has been the prime concern of NSS SOEE Project Lakshya, with such feelings and enthusiasm the members of NSS SOEE Project Lakshya headed out to celebrate their Diwali with the villagers of Padmakeshripur on the 7th of November 2018. Upon reaching the village the members of the team were divided into small groups who went around the village inviting the members of the village to attend the program organized by them.

After the villagers gathered around the shelter, a series of beautifully curated cultural programs were presented by the members of NSS SOEE Project Lakshya. Songs and the various dance performances made sure that the villagers enjoy their Diwali to the fullest extent.The most amazing spectacle at the program was the excitement and happiness on the faces of small children of the village.The small children

After the commencement of the cultural program sweets and stationery were distributed among the villagers who happily accepted the gift.

The members of NSS SOEE Project Lakshya celebrated Diwali in it's most true spirit. The smiles on the faces of the villagers made it evident that the efforts of team Lakshya bore fruit. The real Diwali gift for team NSS SOEE Project Lakshya were the happy villagers; thus further enhancing team Lakshya's spirit of working selflessly towards the society.
