Annually World Environment Day observed on June 5, stresses on the importance of everyone's active participation in Environment Conservation and sustainable living. This year, the theme is 'Celebrating Biodiversity'. "With one million species facing extinction, there has never been a more important time to focus on biodiversity." The day will be hosted in Colombia in partnership with Germany.

As the world battles the COVID-19 pandemic among other environmental disasters including cyclones, earthquakes and floods, it is now more than ever that everyone needs to come together to support environmental initiatives even in the smallest ways possible. It could mean starting as small as saving water at home or disposing waste by sorting out wet and dry waste. The United Nations' message is to inspire people and at the same time, also educate them as to why it is important to conserve the environment.

"The Earth will not continue to offer its harvest, except with faithful stewardship.
We cannot say we love the land and then take steps to destroy it for use by future generations."
—John Paul II

"A Small appeal from NSS family to all, on this auspicious day please plant a tree to make this planet a better place to live in"

Team NSS wishes You All Happy World Environment Day!!!
